

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                |                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| University Address117 St NW, Apt 761Edmonton, Alberta, Canada                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | DHAYASRINIVASAN                    | Home Address6 Varslea Place NWCalgary, Alberta, Canada |
| EDUCATION                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                |                                                                       |
| University of Alberta (UofA) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Candidate for Bachelor of Science in Engineering</li><li>- Current Coursework: Differential Equations, Computer Programming, Chemistry II, Mechanics</li><li>- Relevant Courses: Multivariable Calculus, Engineering Mechanics, Chemistry I, Physics I</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Class of 2029Edmonton, AB           |                                                                       |
| LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCES                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                |                                                                       |
| University of Alberta Formula Racing TeamAero Sub-Team Member <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Designed and modeled precision molds and mounting brackets in SolidWorks, optimizing geometry for the aerodynamic package</li><li>- Fabricated carbon fiber composite parts using wet lay-up techniques, ensuring components met strict weight reduction targets</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | September 2025-PresentEdmonton, AB  |                                                                       |
| Air CadetsWarrant Officer 2nd Class <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Led over 200 cadets during a weekend in nature which lead to the cadets being taught all sorts of survival skills</li><li>- Awarded the coveted Lord Strathcona Medal</li><li>- Was presented the Top Cadet award for the past three years</li><li>- Lead over 150 cadets on a weekly basis which led them to being taught leadership, all about aircrafts, discipline, drill and etc</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | September 2019-PresentEdmonton, AB  |                                                                       |
| Samsung Solve for TomorrowCo-Founding Member, Build Lead <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Engineered an assistive mobility device that integrates the Microsoft HoloLens AR headset with a Muse EEG headband, enabling quadriplegic users to navigate a wheelchair using eye tracking and brainwave signals</li><li>- Integrated an omni directional drive system, allowing or lateral translation and 360-degree rotation to drastically improve maneuverability</li><li>- Won 2nd place nationally in the contest, winning $20,000 for my school by demonstrating the solution’s impact for patients with locked-in syndrome. Also won the fan favorite award by leading a successful public outreach campaign, effectively communicating the technical innovation and social value of the project to the wider community</li></ul> | November 2024-May 2025Calgary, AB   |                                                                       |
| Sparkans FRC Robotics TeamCo-Founding Member, Main Driver, Strategy Team Lead, Electrical and Mechanical Build Team Member <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Co-founded and scaled a competitive FRC robotics team, establishing core-operational workflows and team culture from the ground up</li><li>- Led competition strategy as Team Lead, prioritizing critical goals and pooling team resources to execute effective match tactics</li><li>- Engineered robust mechanisms and devised innovative electrical mounting solutions, ensuring safe and healthy component integration for a competition-ready robot</li><li>- Nominated for the 2024 FRC Dean’s List Award, a prestigious recognition of outstanding student leadership, technical initiative and dedication to STEM values</li></ul>                                            | September 2022-June 2025Calgary, AB |                                                                       |
| WORK EXPERIENCE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                |                                                                       |
| STEM Collegiate FTC MentorCore Mentor <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Established and mentored a rookie robotics team from the ground up, defining operation structure, safety protocols, and team culture for nine students</li><li>- Guided the full engineering life cycle, teaching industry-standard skills in CAD-design, electronics integration, and prototyping to move from concept to a competition-ready robot</li><li>- Led mentor onboarding and development, training co-mentors on effective coaching strategies, FTC regulations, and advanced fabrication techniques including CNC machining and safety supervision</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                  | September 2025-PresentEdmonton, AB  |                                                                       |
| Air Cadet’s Camp StaffCanteen Flight Sergeant (In charge of Canteen) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Managed high volume retail operations in a fast-paced environment, handling financial transactions and inventory while maintaining exceptional service standards for hundreds of cadets on an everyday basis</li><li>- Led and scheduled a team of 5 staff cadets, delegating operations tasks and resolving interpersonal conflicts to ensure smooth canteen functionality during peak activity</li><li>- Received the Innovation Award for demonstrating critical thinking and unique problem-solving strategies.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                               | July 2025-August 2025Alberta        |                                                                       |
| SKILLS/INTERESTS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                |                                                                       |
| Technical Skills: SolidWorks, Fusion 360, Python, HTML/CSS/JS, Arducopter, CNC & Laser Cutting, Electronics IntegrationInterests: UAV/Drone Design, Emerging Tech, Badminton, Rock Climbing, 3D printing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                |                                                                       |